Technical Illustration Book Written by Camino Instructor

Publication in May of a new book, "Technical Illustration" by Theodore A. Thomas, El Camino drafting instructor, was announced this week by McGraw-Hill. Described as a book that teaches the student to create a three-dimensional drawing according to blue print specifications, it will be the first publication of this type in industrial-arts education. Thomas spent five years in preparation of the text and drew from a background of experience in industry as a draftsman and designer, plus nine years as a teacher of drafting. Virtually all problems presented in the book have been taken directly from industry. Thomas spends much of his time in research and conversation with advanced engineering draftsmen of local industry so his presentation offers latest techniques. His book has use as a text for students and as a handbook for illustrators and draftsmen in the field, Thomas said.

Industry Relations Is Topic Sunday at St. Andrews

The Rev. Hugh R. Pery of St. Andrews Episcopal Church, 1432 Angracia Ave., will discuss "Industrial Relations and the Public Good" at 9:15 and 11 a.m. services Sunday. On Wednesday the congregation will view a film entitled "Discipleship" at 7 p.m. Prior to the showing the Lenten Fellowship dinner will be held in the church hall at 6 p.m.

Artificial Eye Realism Captured in Plastic

TORRANCE — Artificial eyes scarcely distinguishable from wearers' eyes are a tremendous morale building, according to Dr. J. M. Soss, optometrist in the Harbor area for 32 years. Dr. Soss explains that use of new plastics makes it possible to almost exactly duplicate the appearance of an eye, even to the small blood vessels in the white of the eyeball. This realism, plus remarkable motility in the artificial eye, relieves the wearer of any embarrassment that might be caused by an obvious prosthesis. These natural looking, comfortable plastic eyes are moderately priced and convenient terms may be arranged. We are also equipped to clean and rest your present artificial eye. Interested persons should call at Dr. Soss' 1208 Sartori Ave. offices to see the astonishing realism of the new artificial eyes. Phone is FA 8-8602. Offices are open Friday evenings and all day Saturdays. Offices also in Wilmington and Long Beach.
